

ORDER WARSHIPS TO NEUTRALITY DUTY

Navy Department Aroused
By Trip of British Cruiser
Into Chesapeake.

SEND ARMORED CRUISER

Officials Withhold Instructions
Sent to Commander of the North Carolina

VIOLATED NAVIGATION LAWS

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Aroused by an official report from the commander of the Battleship Louisiana that a mysterious ship purporting to be a British cruiser, had passed into the mouth of Chesapeake Bay early yesterday morning the navy department today ordered the armored cruiser North Carolina and three destroyers to neutrality duty of Cape Henry.

Officials would not disclose what instructions were sent to the commander of the North Carolina. It was assumed however, that he had been directed to see that the German Merchant Submarine Deutschland is not attacked by allied war vessels within the three mile limit and that American neutrality is not otherwise violated.

Rear-Admiral McLean's Report

Rear-Admiral McLean, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, reported to the department as follows:

"The commanding officers of the Louisiana report that at 2:30 a.m. the 25th, while it was at anchor in Lynn Haven Bay and using his searchlight and signal lights, and otherwise indicating that he was a man-of-war, he was passed by a vessel that was barely discernable excepting for two man-of-war lights displayed.

"As this vessel passed the Louisiana she made the signal which read 'English cruiser.' The vessel was then standing apparently up the channel toward Hampton Roads. The lights disappeared very soon after the signal was made and nothing further was seen of her, tho the Louisiana kept a bright lookout for her."

Unofficially navy officers agreed that if the ship sighted was a British cruiser the commander of the vessel had been guilty of a breach of naval practice and had violated navigation laws in cruising within American territorial waters without proper lights.

Violated Navigation Laws.

Since the name of the craft is not known and since she apparently returned to sea after a brief inspection of the roadshead, only the principle involved in the incident can be treated in whatever course the Washington government may pursue.

A violation of navigation laws cannot be held against any unidentified ship.

The man of war's lights referred to in the admiral's report are two white lights hoisted on the main mast which are the recognized symbol of a warship at night the world over.

Navigation laws require, however, that red and green port and starboard lights must be displayed by all vessels in motion so that other craft may determine their course. The report indicates that the cruiser did not obey that rule.

The report was submitted to the state department as a matter of information. Whether it will be made the subject of complaint to the British government is not known.

It was clearly indicated tonight, however, that adequate precautions would be taken by naval vessels on neutrality duty to see that British or French war vessels which might by lying off the capes waiting for the German merchant submarine to pass out on her return journey did not violate American neutrality.

The statement that the mysterious visitor in the roads last night made the signal "English Cruiser" puzzled navy officers. The ordinary style of reporting the identity of a warship to a passing vessel of marine lookout would require a formal statement of nationality and name. The Louisiana would report herself as the U. S. S. Louisiana, and a British warship ordinarily would say "H. M. S." (His Majesty's ship) before giving her name.

Officials were at a loss also to account for the purpose of the trip. It was pointed out that the cruiser could have had little hope of obtaining valuable information about the Deutschland in a flying night visit to the lower bay. The British embassy had no information on the subject and embassy officials said they doubted that a British commander would undertake such a method of seeking information about the German submarine.

NAME HIGH OFFICER IN POLICE GRAFT PROBE

NEW YORK DISTRICT ATTORNEY EXPECTS MORE SENSATIONS

Name of Deputy Police Commissioner Dragged into Case by Former "Stool Pigeon" for Indicted Commander of "Vice Squad."

New York, July 26.—One of New York's deputy police commissioners was named by a witness today in District Attorney Swann's investigation of grafting by members of the police "vice squad." Seven policemen already have been indicted upon evidence supplied by underworld characters and District Attorney Swann declared tonight he expected more sensational revelations.

The name of the deputy police commissioner was dragged into the case by Max Turkowitz, a former "stool pigeon" for detective William J. Enright, indicted commander of the "vice-squad."

Turkowitz made an affidavit that while employed by Enright he collected tribute from keepers of questionable resorts. He was arrested last June on a charge of extortion.

A few days later he was visited in jail by Detective David J. Foley, a coworker with Enright and also under indictment. In his affidavit Turkowitz quoted Foley as having said to him:

"Enright went down to commissioner and asked him if he would be allowed to testify for you as a witness, and the commissioner said 'yes.' Do you need some money? No? Well, don't be afraid. We'll get you out. Keep your mouth shut. Enright and I will testify for you and we'll have the complainants held for perjury. the deputy commissioner said we could do it."

Subsequently, while on his way to court in the custody of detectives, Turkowitz was accosted by Enright and Foley, he asserted in his affidavit. Enright handed him a sum of money and Foley reiterated his pledge of assistance. This incident is said by the district attorney to have led to the investigation now in progress.

Turkowitz pleaded guilty to the extortion charge late today and was released on a suspended sentence.

Another witness who appeared before the district attorney was a married woman whose character was declared by Mr. Swann to be above reproach. She testified that Enright had her arrested "on a frameup" charge after she had rebuffed his attentions.

The activities of the accused policemen according to Mr. Swann had wide ramifications. Since the investigation was begun with the co-operation of Police Commissioner Woods, scores of underworld characters have called upon Mr. Swann and told of paying graft to Enright and his aides. Keepers of disorderly houses and women of the streets have declared they were forced to pay under threat of being arrested on a "frameup" charge.

Another source of revenue devised by Enright, the district attorney declared was a plan to give dances on the East Side, under the auspices of a mythical yacht club. Keepers of disorderly resorts and criminals were forced to buy tickets, it is asserted while other tickets were distributed free among girls employed in department stores. Many of the girls innocently attended the dances, Mr. Swann has been told and there became the prey of "white slavers."

IOWA PROGRESSIVES MEET

Des Moines, Iowa, July 26.—Iowa's Progressives met in state convention here today and after nominating S. H. Basher of Waterloo for governor to fill the vacancy on their ticket, adopted a platform favoring universal military service on the Swiss plan, equal suffrage, Prohibition by state and union.

A telegram was dispatched to J. M. Parker, Progressive candidate for vice-president endorsing his call for the Chicago meeting and pledging a full delegation from Iowa.

MIDDLE WEST STATES SUFFER MOST FROM EXCESSIVE HEAT

CHICAGO, July 26.—Middle west states in general and Iowa in particular suffered most from the excessive heat today according to reports received by the local office of the government bureau. Ten cities, seven in Iowa and three in Illinois reported 100 degrees or more. Charles City, Iowa, Des Moines, Iowa, Keokuk, Iowa, Springfield, Ill., and Peoria, Ill., each experienced a maximum temperature of 100 degrees. Davenport, Iowa, Ottumwa, Iowa, Clinton, Iowa and Quincy, Ill., each reported 102 degrees. Burlington, Iowa and Dubuque were among the hottest places in the country, the mercury there rising to 103 and 105.

Chicago was comparatively cool, the minimum for the day being 80 degrees and the maximum 89.

One Dies From Heat.

Danville, Ill., July 26.—With the temperature over the hundred mark, work on the Dixie Highway and other county contracts in Vermilion county has been suspended except during the early morning and late evening hours.

A farm hand named Brown died and three women were prostrated by the heat at Hoppeston today. Farmers fear for the corn crop unless rains bring relief soon.

JURY EXONERATES WOMAN.

Arlington, Ill., July 26.—A few hours after she had shot and killed Nathan Sexton, "because he had refused to stay away," Mrs. Orval Perry, wife of a farmer living near here was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

Mrs. Perry and her husband formerly were separated and at that time Mrs. Perry says, Sexton paid her attention. Later the Perrys became reconciled, but Sexton continued to call on her despite her protests, Mrs. Perry said. Today Sexton called while Perry was asleep and when he refused to leave, Mrs. Perry says she shot him.

Officials under the direction of both the navy and treasury department worked tirelessly today in an effort to obtain all the details of the visit of the foreign cruiser to American waters. Fuller reports are understood to have gone forward to both departments. Despite rumors that a trading vessel had been mistaken for the cruiser all investigations brought the inquisitors back to the original story of the affair as told by officers of the Battleship Louisiana and the crew of the Neptune last night. They declared vaguely that they recognized a strange boat that passed them in the capes as a British man-of-war.

War News Summarized

With Pozieres completely and apparently securely in their hands and having strengthened their position by the capture of two strong trenches west of the village, British troops seemingly are resting before attempting again to throw their forces against the Germans who are blocking their advance toward Bapaume.

Wednesday saw only isolated artillery duels here and there sharp local infantry attacks along the entire British front in France.

South of the Somme, the French have recorded another success in taking a fortified house with some prisoners southeast of Estrees. Except in the Champagne, where the artillery of both sides was engaged, little fighting took place on the remainder of the French front.

In the Volhynia sector, the Russians are keeping up energetically their pressure on the Teutonic allies in the Stoenka river region and also are attacking the Teutons in North Galicia near Brody. In the Stoenka district Petrograd says the Teutons are suffering heavy casualties and more than 4,000 men, five guns, six machine guns and quantities of munitions have been captured by the Russians.

The Petrograd and Berlin communications are at variance concerning the results of fighting that has taken place near Riga and in the vicinity of Baranovichi.

Petrograd claims the repulse of an offensive by Field Marshall Von Hindenburg's men near Riga, while Berlin asserts that the Germans penetrated Russian advanced positions there and destroyed them. Likewise Petrograd claims a slight gain for the Russians near Baranovichi while Berlin declares that strong Russian attacks in this vicinity were put down with heavy casualties.

The Turks have evacuated Ezering in Turkish Armenia and the Russians are in possession of this important strategic point.

The German admiralty asserts that a German submarine twice torpedoed a British drednaught of the Orkney Islands, Scotland, July 24th, but the British admiralty says the vessel attacked was a small auxiliary and that it was not hit.

RESTRICTIONS MAY DEFEAT EFFORT TO RELIEVE POLAND

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Great Britain in granting conditional permission for importation of food to Poland has surrounded her concession with restrictions which it is feared here will defeat the effort being made by the United States to get relief supplies to the starving Polish people.

Altho agreeing to the suggestion that food be permitted to pass thru the British lines under guarantee that its distribution would be supervised by a neutral commission, the British government has stipulated that in return the Austro-German forces occupying Poland must not take native food from the territory.

Germany sometime ago indicated her willingness to give such a guarantee but only on condition that American relief work be extended also to Serbia and that the permanent government police force of 150,000 men in Poland be fed on supplies brought there regardless of origin.

Another condition on which Great Britain has insisted is that Germany and Austria obligate themselves to prevent any of the relief supplies from being used by military forces. This Germany never has guaranteed.

IF THE CONTINENTAL VIEW OF THE LAW WERE APPLIED BY GREAT BRITAIN SUESPENSION WOULD ATTACH.

If the continental view of the law were applied by Great Britain suspension would attach, the British government contends to every firm of German name in a neutral country.

The allies' view of the legal aspects of the blacklist which probably will be the basis of the parliamentary statement to be issued soon in London and be incorporated in the reply to the American protest is understood to be as follows:

"The allies agreed to enforce international law against their enemies and upon all their subjects without distinction." The continental rule, applied by Germany, France, Italy and Russia interprets the word "enemy" as a person of enemy origin or interest. English and American precedents put the emphasis on domicile. Consequently British subjects have considered they could trade with an enemy firm domiciled in a neutral country.

Senator Reed of Missouri offered the amendment which would make the existing provision for increased pay for the army when in service in foreign soil apply also to service on the Mexican border. Under it officers will receive ten percent and enlisted men twenty per cent increase in pay. In adopting it the senate also increased the house appropriation for pay from $1,050,000 to $14,178,240.

The amendment giving soldiers in the Mexican service authority to vote in the field at the national election passed without opposition. As a safeguard to the health of soldiers an amendment was adopted appropriating $250,000 for construction of wooden floors and screens in troop tents along the border. House appropriation of $5,000,000 for small arms was approved. The senate again voted to retain the house provision prohibiting installation of scientific speedup systems in government works. An amendment to strike out the latter provision was defeated yesterday but was reintroduced by Senator Gallinger.

The bill is expected to pass tomorrow.

NEGOTIATIONS IN CEMENT STRIKE COME TO ABRUPT END

OTTAWA, Ill., July 26.—Negotiations for a peaceful settlement of the strike of 1,500 cement workers at LaSalle and Oglesby, started by Governor Dunn about two weeks ago, came to an abrupt end today when the strikers in three mass meetings rejected the operators' compromise offer of a twelve hour day by a vote of twenty to one.

Tonight it was announced an attempt to re-open the cement plants would be made tomorrow. In view of these developments the commanders of five companies of state militia on the scene are preparing to do everything possible to prevent the recurrence of rioting such as marked the last attempt of the operators to run work trains between LaSalle and Oglesby.

A farm hand named Brown died and three women were prostrated by the heat at Hoppeston today. Farmers fear for the corn crop unless rains bring relief soon.

MAY SEND PROTEST WITHIN FEW DAYS Practically Complete Preparation for Action Against Blacklist

TO DISCUSS PRINCIPLES

Document Will Not Interfere With Continuance of Informal Discussions

DISCUSS FACTS FROM FIRMS

WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Wilson and state department officials practically have completed preparation for a protest against the promulgation of a blacklist of American firms under the British trading with the enemy act. It was said today that the communication would be sent to London probably within the next few days. It will discuss the principles involved and will not interfere with the continuance of informal discussions between representatives of the two governments over the cases of individual firms included in the blacklist. State department officials believe that their study of the blacklist clearly has proved that it injures American firms in violation of international law.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26.—Governor Dunne and the Illinois and Michigan canal commissioners will meet Thursday morning at Hotel LaSalle in Chicago to consider bids for the waterpower rights at Joliet dam number one. There are two bidders, Andrew Cook and the sanitary district of Chicago. The sanitary district made the highest bid.

SENATE ADOPTS AMENDMENTS TO ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL

Provide Increased Pay for Officers and Men of Army and Guard in Active Service for the Mexican Emergency.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Increased pay for officers and men of the regular army and National Guard in active service for the Mexican emergency, improved camp conditions to safeguard their health, and authorization for them to vote in the field at the coming presidential election were provided in amendments to the army appropriation bill agreed to today by the senate.

When the principles involved are taken up it is expected that issue will be taken with France, Russia and Italy. It is understood here that in announcing its blacklist, Great Britain really acted in deference to her allies who felt that their own merchants were suffering thru failure of the London government to make indiscriminate war upon all of their enemies, commercial as well as military and upon those located in neutral countries as well as in Germany and Austria-Hungary.

The allies' view of the legal aspects of the blacklist which probably will be the basis of the parliamentary statement to be issued soon in London and be incorporated in the reply to the American protest is understood to be as follows:

U. S. to Help States With Roads.

The federal road bill which makes $75,000,000 available for road improvements in the U. S. is operative very much like the state aid funds. With state aid it is necessary for the county authorities to show their interest in a co-operative way in order to secure their share of the state fund. So with the federal fund, the individual states must show their interest by a willingness to furnish a sum of money equal to that apportioned from the federal treasurer.

A large number of the states now have highway commissions for the direction of the state road work and it is very probable that such states will immediately begin steps to secure their apportionment of the federal funds. The state commissions have impressed upon county officials the necessity of co-operative action within the state and now to be consistent they must hasten to avail themselves of the federal aid offered. It takes not only funds but genuine interest to accomplish the best results in road work and those who have studied the question find that the co-operative efforts resulting from the good roads movement are fully as beneficial in making for better roads as are the funds themselves.

Startling Disease Figures

There is a great deal of publicity these days about the terrific loss from tuberculosis and the millions of loss also resulting from this disease. The contest waged against the great "white plague" is justified by the facts, but tuberculosis is by no means the only enemy against which public welfare must be waged. It has remained for Senator Ransdell of Louisiana in a recent address on the subject of "Rural Health America's First Duty" to call attention to the great economic and life losses resulting each year from typhoid fever and malaria. The loss from these two diseases, the senator declared, reaches the enormous total of $928,234,880. Practically two-thirds of this great sum is lost from malaria. Such advances have been made in knowledge of the methods of prevention of these diseases that it is not impractical to hope that the time will come when thru governmental instrumentality there will be no such great losses as have occurred in the past.

Malaria is closely related with drainage and sanitation problems and the government can well afford to appropriate liberally for work and investigation calculated to lessen the ravages of both typhoid and malaria. Senator Ransdell in his address sought to show that the government is not living up to its obligations in this regard, for during the period quoted the government appropriated $5,016,175 for the investigation and prevention of the diseases of animal and plant life, and only $1,917,566 for the investigation and prevention of diseases of man.

Propose Needed Oiling Work.

The proposition to oil the roadway from East street and Michigan avenue to the entrance to Nichols park should receive hearty co-operative support. The authorities of South Jacksonville have arranged for the necessary grading and the Young Men's Booster club has undertaken to raise funds to pay for the oil. This roadway as an approach to Nichols park is in daily use and now the dust there is so heavy that it is a great source of annoyance to drivers of vehicles and to residents along the way. The oiling cost will not be great and a

Seeks to Capitalize Publicity
The advent of F. S. Munro into the Republican contest for the attorney generalship nomination has added considerable interest to state politics. Mr. Munro has for some weeks been carrying advertisements in farm papers asking that readers who believe in his record and pledges of law enforcement send in coupons stating their approval. Mr. Munro, who has been a member of the legislature, has come into special prominence as attorney in the Fergus suits which have attacked the validity of various state appropriations.

Mr. Munro has accomplished some good work against decisive odds in the proceedings he has carried on and it remains to be seen whether or not he can turn the work accomplished into political advertising. Thus far he has given evidence of an earnest desire to serve the people. The public may not take kindly to his effort to use the publicity gained thru the success in the Fergus suits as political capital. The contest for the nomination is very spirited, as a number of strong men are in the running. They include George Wilson of Quincy, Walter Provine of Taylorville, Richard J. Barr of Joliet and Edward J. Brundage of Chicago.

Boosting One's Own Campaign
Voters of Jacksonville who have followed recent campaign speeches have been impressed with the idea that the candidate who spends his time attacking his opponents is not following the policy best calculated to win good results on his own account. Consideration of political history in Illinois and elsewhere proves that the candidate who "hones his own row" and tells the people rather why they should elect him to office than why they should not elect somebody else gets the best results. The same principle has often been exemplified in local politics and those who are most schooled in these affairs believe in the "for" campaign methods as opposed to the "against" methods.

People as a rule are so constituted that continued attacks on a candidate awaken a certain amount of sympathy or enthusiasm for the man attacked and so the attacks really react on the one who makes them. It is easy enough to make charges and allusions and to question motives. Most men who succeed in politics occasionally have to contend with these charges. Many men who succeed in business meet with the same things. We say again that the campaigner that the people like best to hear from is the one who tells the people that he would like their support and then goes on to give them some idea of what he expects to do if he is accorded their support and wins the position that he is seeking. The ideal condition for a candidate is to leave the other fellow out of consideration and if possible to fill the people so thoroly with enthusiasm for him personally and for what he stands for that they will forget that anybody else is seeking the same office.

Subscription lists are already in circulation and the committee in charge sincerely hope that the request for funds will be promptly answered so that the work can be speedily undertaken and concluded before the chautauqua opens.

EXPLAINS CIRCUMSTANCES TO WHICH GIRL'S DEATH IS ATTRIBUTED

State's Attorney Claims Death of Miss Radcliffe was Due to a Bungling Attempt to Perform an Illegal Operation.

Olney, Ill., July 26—An explanation of the circumstances to which are attributed the death of Miss Elizabeth Radcliffe near here late Friday night, was given today by H. G. Morris, state's attorney.

Because of the girl's death, Roy Hinterliter is awaiting action of the November grand jury. He was held without bail after the verdict of the coroner's jury yesterday.

The death of Miss Radcliffe, it is claimed by the state's attorney, was due to a bungling attempt to perform an illegal operation. Air bubbles it is claimed, entered the circulatory system of the young girl, and when they reached the heart, or brain, death must have resulted.

State's Attorney Morris today gave out a statement explaining the pathological feature of the case.

Stating that the autopsy showed that the girl was in delicate condition, the prosecutor added:

"There were no exterior marks of violence. Three experienced surgeons found all organs perfectly normal."

"In cutting into the right ventricle," he continued, "the air escaped. The heart was perfectly healthy. When the surgeons removed the top of the skull they noticed bubbles of air. All blood vessels of the brain showed air circulation. There were no structural changes but on a test the brain floated in water. There was no lesion of the lung."

"Later it was discovered that a man threw away an instrument used in illegal operations while going to the sanitarium, to which Hinterliter took Miss Radcliffe Friday night after she was dead. It was found. The man had boasted of previously using such instruments."

The prosecutor has letters said to have been written by Hinterliter to the girl.

OFFICIAL REPORT COMPLETELY CLEARS NAME OF COL. BUTLER

Colonel Gaston, District Commander, Transmits Report to Gen. Funston

San Antonio, Texas, July 26—The official report on the killing of Colonel M. C. Butler of Alpine, Texas, last week by Harry Spannall completely clears the name of the dead officer.

The report transmitted to General Funston today by Colonel J. A. Gaston, district commander, says that Colonel Butler was aware that Spannall was jealous of his wife and took care never to be with her except when others were present.

The immediate incident that led to the killing of the colonel and Mrs. Spannall is described in the report. Colonel Gaston, who hurried to Alpine immediately following word of the shooting says that Colonel and Mrs. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Spannall had gone to the home of a friend who was ill and on their return to the hotel, where all lived, it was suggested that everyone, as a precaution, should wash their hands.

Colonel Gaston says that shortly after this Spannall went to the Butler rooms and finding apparently only Colonel Butler and Mrs. Spannall there began to upbraid his wife. At this point, however, Mrs. Butler came out of the bath room and pointed out to him that she was one of the party.

Soon after Spannall took the colonel and Mrs. Spannall on the ride that ended in their being killed.

GEN. BLISS BEGINS INSPECTION OF GUARDSMEN'S CAMPS AT EL PASO

EL PASO, Texas, July 26—Inspection of the camps of the 25,000 National Guardsmen on station here was begun by Major General Tasker H. Bliss for the purpose of ascertaining the conditions under which the men are living. He paid particular attention to reports that some of the guardsmen are disgruntled with border duty and urged organization commanders to place as liberal construction on the recent order releasing guardsmen, who have dependent relatives as the military exigencies permit.

"The spirit of these National guardsmen all along the border is excellent," he said. "While it is hot and dusty sometimes, exaggerated reports have been spread concerning their privations, which in reality are negligible."

General Bliss added that the number of guardsmen which could be sent home under the orders would still leave an ample number of men under arms in the United States to cope with any possible emergency.

VEGETATION IS SUFFERING FROM DROUGHT IN ILLINOIS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26—Vegetation is suffering from drought in Illinois, according to the weekly crop report of the United States weather bureau here today.

The report says: "The week was hot and dry with local showers. There were good rains in a few places but amounts were generally unimportant. Corn is doing well in favored places, but all vegetation is suffering in the drouthy places. Small grains were being cut in the north and threshed in central counties. Wheat is running light. Hay is about harvested. Corn is blossoming in the north and is tasseled out in the south."

ARREST BARONESS VON HUTTEN IN ENGLAND AS AN ENEMY ALIEN

LONDON, July 27—Baroness Betty Von Huttent has been arrested as an enemy alien traveling more than five miles from her address without a permit. At the police court hearing the Baroness protested that she was not a German, but American born. She explained that she had been divorced from her German husband eight years ago and had lived in England ever since and that she believed she would regain all her rights of her American citizenship when she returned to America. Scotland Yard said there had been complaints before on the baroness traveling about the country. It was said it is doubtful whether the baroness could be regarded as an alien enemy. The court adjourned the case until the baroness could obtain counsel.

The Baroness Von Huttent formerly was Miss Betty Riddle of Pennsylvania, after her divorce from her husband she appeared on the stage in London.

DOCTOR TESTIFIES AT HEARING Chicago, July 26—Testifying at a hearing on the petition of Miss Margaret Ryan, a Canadian girl for a writ of habeas corpus against Mrs. Anna Dollie Ledgerwood Matters for the possession of "Baby Irene" Dr. Mark E. Goldstein said today that he had performed an operation on Mrs. Matters in November, 1914, which would make it almost impossible for her to become a mother. Mrs. Matters and Miss Ryan both claim they gave birth to the child at a hospital in Ottawa, Canada.

Dr. Goldstein further testified that when he examined Mrs. Matters after July 24th, 1915, the day on which she says she became a mother he found no signs of childbirth.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION.

Paris, July 26—On the occasion of a call by Ambassador William G. Sharp on President Poincare at Elysee Palace today the president took the opportunity to express to the ambassador his deep appreciation for the aid being extended by the children of the United States to those made orphans by the war in France.

Upwards of a million and a half francs had already been sent by the United States to help the orphans.

DEATH RATE IS LOWER.

New York, July 26—Despite the increasing number of deaths and new cases of infantile paralysis in New York City, Health Commissioner Emerson declared tonight that the death rate of children is lower than it was last year. He stated the records of his department showed that 659 less infants have died so far this year in the city than in the corresponding period of 1915.

BEGIN PROBE IN SPRINGFIELD.

Springfield, Ill., July 26—A probe into the alleged selling of bad eggs by Illinois farmers was begun here today by John B. Neuman, a member of the Illinois state food commission. A number of farmers were interviewed.

An annual loss estimated at $5,000,000 is sustained by consumers of eggs in Illinois because proper care is not taken in the industry, Mr. Neuman said.

EXPLAINS REFUSAL OF STRIKERS TO RATIFY AGREEMENT

NEW YORK, July 26—Refusal of the striking garment workers to ratify the agreement entered into by their leaders with the manufacturers' association was due to a failure to provide for arbitration of differences by a disinterested board, it was learned tonight. Robert W. Bruere, former city chamberlain who has acted in an advisory capacity for the workers said the revolt clearly demonstrated that it is impossible "to arrive at an agreement that will be fair alike to employers and the workers and that will secure durable peace without the intervention of a board of arbitration in which the public is adequately represented."

WILL REQUIRE LARGE AMOUNT FOR WORK AMONG BORDER TROOPS

NEW YORK, July 26—Approximately $500,000 will be required for the work of the army and navy department of the Young Men's Christian Association among the troops along the Mexican border, it was announced tonight. More than $100,000 already has been contributed. Forty buildings will be needed, each of which will cost from $2,000 to $2,500 to erect and equip. In many cases the buildings will be named in honor of those contributing sufficient funds for their erection. Gifts thus far received include $50,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, $10,000 each from Cleveland H. Dodge, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, William Sloane and E. S. Harkness, and $5,000 each from George W. Perkins and Mrs. Russell Sage.

Keithsburg, Ill., July 26—Frank Rader, 24 years old, son of James Rader of near Joy, Ill., was drowned in the Mississippi river across from Keithsburg shortly after noon today. His body was recovered at seven o'clock tonight. Rader together with Frank Robinson were in bathing and the former was seized with cramps, drowning before his companion could reach him after his calls for help.

ANNOUNCE WAGE INCREASE.

Bloomington, Ill., July 26—Officials of the Chicago and Alton railroad today announced an increase in pay for 350 car workers of a cent and a half an hour with better working conditions. The increase affects 240 men in this city, the others being at Roodhouse, Joliet and Dwight. The increase means an outlay of $100 annually.

GASOLINE TANK WAGON CATCHES FIRE.

Mt. Sterling, Ill., July 26—A team of horses hitched to a burning gasoline tank wagon rushed into a barn here today, the flaming liquid setting fire to the barn and to a house which they passed. The wagon caught fire while at a garage and a nearby automobile was set ablaze. Barn, house, automobile and wagon were destroyed. Burning gasoline ran down the street when the tank wagon melted and passed a fire engine house where it was extinguished.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Kinman and The 115th. Ill.

By Ensley Moore.

Member Illinois State Historical Society.

William Kinman, eldest son of Levi and Susannah (Hornaday) Kinman, was born in a fort near what is now Petersburg, Indiana, May 8, 1812.

Levi Kinman was born in the state of Georgia, and Susannah, his wife, was born in North Carolina. Levi died at Pittsfield, Ill., Oct. 7, 1849; Susannah at the same place, March 26, 1860. These people were living near the Petersburg fort, in 1812, when Indian troubles arose and the alarm reached the Kinman's.

The Indians, as allies of the British, did most of the 1812 fighting on the frontier. On May 7, 1812 a couple with a young baby stopped at the home of the Kinmans, saying the Indians were on the warpath and that they (the young people) were hurrying to the fort. It was nightfall and the Kinmans urged them to remain over night, and they would all go on to the fort together the next morning. As they were sitting in the fireplace, the young settler was shot by an Indian. Susannah Hornaday Kinman seized a crock of milk from the table and dashed it on the fire to put out the light, and make it impossible for the Indians without to aim correctly into the room. Levi Kinman seized his gun and returned the fire. The next morning he buried the young man, and took the two women and the baby on to the fort. When in sight of it they were again attacked by the Indians and the soldiers made a sortie to save them."

That night William Kinman was born in the fort; being his mother's first child.

The child so born was destined to see and know of wars until the day of his death, at Chickamauga.

The Kinnans.

Three Kinman brothers came to America from Ireland, in 1752, settling in Maryland. They were of Scotch Irish descent. Their names were Samuel, James and John. The first two named went to North Carolina in 1752, and John to Georgia in 1750. There John found his second wife. They had three sons, David, Levi and Samuel. David and Levi were in the Revolutionary War, Samuel being too young, and David had a land grant which is proof of his service. This Levi was the father of another Levi, who was the father of William. And here it is to be remarked that the Hornadays were members of the Society of Friends. David and Levi (the first) emigrated thru Tennessee and Kentucky to Indiana. There they became prominent in the politics of their counties.

Levi, junior, went to Ohio, before the others emigrated, and married Susannah Hornaday there. This in Gratiot township. Then the others came out to Indiana, where Levi, junior, joined them.

The Hornadays.

Susannah was the daughter of Nathan Hornaday, and she was born in North Carolina. Her people had been supporters of Cromwell, on the other side of the water, and were present at Marston Moor. They had an estate given them by the Protector, in County Antrim, Ireland. It is here to be remarked that Nathan was the son of Lewis Hornaday. They were in North Carolina, apparently, in 1783. Nathan left North Carolina for Ohio, in 1806, in order to free his slaves.

The Levi Kinmans.

Levi Kinman and Susannah Hornaday his wife were the parents of: William, afterwards Colonel; Nathan; Franklin; Anderson; Ezekiel; Jefferson; Lewis; Rachel; Rebecca; Mary Ann and Maria.

The William Kinmans.

Col. William Kinman married Ann Shinn, who was born in Camden, N. J., Oct. 16, 1812, and they were married August 27, 1833. She died in Jacksonville March 3, 1890. Mrs. Kinman was the daughter of John and Rebecca Shinn. Rebecca being of Lippincott descent. Her forbear, Richard, appears in America in 1699. The name then appears to have been spelled Lippencott. She was related to J. B. Lippincott, the great publisher of Philadelphia, Penna. It is an item of local interest that Joshua Moore—late of Jacksonville—was also related to Mr. Lippincott. These Lippincotts were Friends and lived in "South" Jersey. J. P. Lippincott's father came from "North" Jersey. Richard and Abigail were way back ancestors of Rebecca Lippincott Shinn. John Shinn came from New Jersey to Illinois, near Pittsfield, in 1831. He was a local Methodist preacher.

William Kinman and his wife, Ann Shinn were the parents of: William, afterwards Colonel; Nathan; Franklin; Anderson; Ezekiel; Jefferson; Lewis; Rachel; Rebecca; Mary Ann and Maria.

An idea of the cosmopolitan aspect of the show may be had from a careful study of all the people in the morning parade. For an hour the wonders of the earth unfold themselves as they pass before spectators. There are dusky queen seated in richly draped howdahs on the backs of elephants; desert chieftains perched on camels and dromedaries, far eastern potentates and their retinues in gold chariots and thrones; Australian bushmen and boomerang throwers, on horses; the military of European kingdoms, richly costumed; court ladies and diplomats in coaches of state; Oriental statesmen, in rickshaws and palanquins, and savage chiefs and tribesmen, in barbarian carriages of war.

The characteristic music of the countries of the earth is played by bagpipers, great brass bands, organs, reed and string orchestras, castanet ballets, tom tom players, and bagpipe corps weird chanters, climes and siren pipes.

The children who visit the circus will be delighted when they see the two cutest little jungle babies that ever rolled out of the thicket. To be precise, however, they never saw a jungle, being captive-born lions and used to city ways. They are little balls of soft fur with bright, blinking eyes and playful paws. Their mother, and a proud beast she is, watches over her offspring zealously. Woe be unto the venturesome keeper who seeks to pet those babies thru the bars of the cage. Mamma is a jealous beast and will brook no interference in her domestic affairs.

BABY RIVERHORSE.

Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Has Tiny Hippopotamus.

When Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus comes to Jacksonville Wednesday, Aug. 16, there will be an exhibition in the menagerie the smallest hippopotamus ever brought to America. It reached the circus a few weeks ago and has been given a place of honor among the many other unusual specimens of far eastern animal life. The baby riverhorse was caught in British South Africa by means of a pitfall—a deep trench, the mouth of which is covered by a net work of moss and sticks to resemble the grassy earth. When the animal took his fatal plunge he fought so ferociously that it required twenty natives to drag him from the dark hole and make a prisoner of him.

The children who visit the circus will be delighted when they see the two cutest little jungle babies that ever rolled out of the thicket. To be precise, however, they never saw a jungle, being captive-born lions and used to city ways. They are little balls of soft fur with bright, blinking eyes and playful paws. OLD JACKSONVILLE

Kinman and The 115th. Ill.

By Ensley Moore.

Member Illinois State Historical Society.

William Kinman, eldest son of Levi and Susannah (Hornaday) Kinman, was born in a fort near what is now Petersburg, Indiana, May 8, 1812.

Levi Kinman was born in the state of Georgia, and Susannah, his wife, was born in North Carolina. Levi died at Pittsfield, Ill., Oct. 7, 1849; Susannah at the same place, March 26, 1860. These people were living near the Petersburg fort, in 1812, when Indian troubles arose and the alarm reached the Kinman's.

The Indians, as allies of the British, did most of the 1812 fighting on the frontier. On May 7, 1812 a couple with a young baby stopped at the home of the Kinmans, saying the Indians were on the warpath and that they (the young people) were hurrying to the fort. It was nightfall and the Kinmans urged them to remain over night, and they would all go on to the fort together the next morning. As they were sitting in the fireplace, the young settler was shot by an Indian. Susannah Hornaday Kinman seized a crock of milk from the table and dashed it on the fire to put out the light, and make it impossible for the Indians without to aim correctly into the room. Levi Kinman seized his gun and returned the fire. The next morning he buried the young man, and took the two women and the baby on to the fort. When in sight of it they were again attacked by the Indians and the soldiers made a sortie to save them."

That night William Kinman was born in the fort; being his mother's first child.

The child so born was destined to see and know of wars until the day of his death, at Chickamauga.

The Kinnans.

Three Kinman brothers came to America from Ireland, in 1752, settling in Maryland. They were of Scotch Irish descent. Their names were Samuel, James and John. The first two named went to North Carolina in 1752, and John to Georgia in 1750. There John found his second wife. They had three sons, David, Levi and Samuel. David and Levi were in the Revolutionary War, Samuel being too young, and David had a land grant which is proof of his service. This Levi was the father of another Levi, who was the father of William. And here it is to be remarked that the Hornadays were members of the Society of Friends. David and Levi (the first) emigrated thru Tennessee and Kentucky to Indiana. There they became prominent in the politics of their counties.

Levi, junior, went to Ohio, before the others emigrated, and married Susannah Hornaday there. This in Gratiot township. Then the others came out to Indiana, where Levi, junior, joined them.

The Hornadays.

Susannah was the daughter of Nathan Hornaday, and she was born in North Carolina. Her people had been supporters of Cromwell, on the other side of the water, and were present at Marston Moor. They had an estate given them by the Protector, in County Antrim, Ireland. It is here to be remarked that Nathan was the son of Lewis Hornaday. They were in North Carolina, apparently, in 1783. Nathan left North Carolina for Ohio, in 1806, in order to free his slaves.

The Levi Kinmans.

Levi Kinman and Susannah Hornaday his wife were the parents of: William, afterwards Colonel; Nathan; Franklin; Anderson; Ezekiel; Jefferson; Lewis; Rachel; Rebecca; Mary Ann and Maria.

The William Kinmans.

Col. William Kinman married Ann Shinn, who was born in Camden, N. J., Oct. 16, 1812, and they were married August 27, 1833. She died in Jacksonville March 3, 1890. Mrs. Kinman was the daughter of John and Rebecca Shinn. Rebecca being of Lippincott descent. Her forbear, Richard, appears in America in 1699. The name then appears to have been spelled Lippencott. She was related to J. B. Lippincott, the great publisher of Philadelphia, Penna. It is an item of local interest that Joshua Moore—late of Jacksonville—was also related to Mr. Lippincott. These Lippincotts were Friends and lived in "South" Jersey. J. P. Lippincott's father came from "North" Jersey. Richard and Abigail were way back ancestors of Rebecca Lippincott Shinn. John Shinn came from New Jersey to Illinois, near Pittsfield, in 1831. He was a local Methodist preacher.

William Kinman and his wife, Ann Shinn were the parents of: William, afterwards Colonel; Nathan; Franklin; Anderson; Ezekiel; Jefferson; Lewis; Rachel; Rebecca; Mary Ann and Maria.

An idea of the cosmopolitan aspect of the show may be had from a careful study of all the people in the morning parade. For an hour the wonders of the earth unfold themselves as they pass before spectators. There are dusky queen seated in richly draped howdahs on the backs of elephants; desert chieftains perched on camels and dromedaries, far eastern potentates and their retinues in gold chariots and thrones; Australian bushmen and boomerang throwers, on horses; the military of European kingdoms, richly costumed; court ladies and diplomats in coaches of state; Oriental statesmen, in rickshaws and palanquins, and savage chiefs and tribesmen, in barbarian carriages of war.

The characteristic music of the countries of the earth is played by bagpipers, great brass bands, organs, reed and string orchestras, castanet ballets, tom tom players, and bagpipe corps weird chanters, climes and siren pipes.

From March until June, 1863 it was next served with the army on Shilohville and Tullahoma and during a part of the summer of 1863 was stationed at the latter point. On the 19th and 20th of September it bore a distinguished part in the battle of Chickamauga, which was the first great battle in which it was engaged, and where one third of its officers and nearly one half of its men were either killed or wounded. After this battle it was assigned to the 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, 4th Army Corps, Dept. of the Cumberland, with which it remained to the close of the war.

On the 3rd of May, 1864, the 115th entered upon the Atlanta campaign. On the 7th it was in the charge upon Tunnel Hill. It skirmished for several days with the enemy at Rocky Face and Buzzard's Roost, in front of Dalton, and on the 14th and 15th of May bore a conspicuous part in the battle of Resaca. When Gen. Sherman began his grand march to the sea, in November, 1864, the 4th Corps was left to oppose the rebel Hood. Then began the famous retreat to Nashville. At Franklin the 115th was in the thickest of the fight. On the 15th and 16th of December the battle of Nashville was fought, and the regiment bore itself with distinguished gallantry. It next went in pursuit of the retreating rebels, marching to Huntsville, Ala., where it remained in camp from Jan. 1, 1865, to the middle of March. It then started for Richmond, Va., via Knoxville. When it reached Greeneville, it received intelligence of the occupation of the rebel capital by our forces. It then returned to Nashville, where it was mustered out of the service.

MABEL TRASK TAKES M & M $10,000 STAKE

COX MARE WINS ALMOST AS SHE PLEASED.

Coxen Has Anything But an Easy
Time Winning the 2:14 Pace—
2:14 Trot Goes to Azora Axworthy

Detroit, July 26—Mabel Trask, owned and driven by Walter Cox of Dover, N. H., had little trouble winning the historic Merchants and Manufacturers $10,000 stake for 2:08 trotters at the Grand Circuit meeting here this afternoon. None of the other contestants seemed able to give the New Hampshire mare anything like an argument and she won almost as she pleased.

In the first heat Mabel Trask led St. Frisco and Virginia Barnett all the way from the first quarter, swinging along easily into victory half a length ahead of St. Frisco, with Virginia Barnett several lengths back in third place. The Engine made a good showing in the second heat until he fell in the stretch.
Mabel Trask however, came up from second place at the turn and won in a canter with Cox holding her back. Miss Perfection was second and St. Frisco a poor third. The first quarter of this mile was stepped in :32.

The third heat was much slower than the preceding two and was taken by Mabel Trask, eased up, with St. Frisco second, four lengths behind. Virginia Barnett was a nose behind St. Frisco.

Colleen had anything but an easy time winning the 2:14 pace. She got the decision by taking the first two heats, one in a whipping finish and the other by a neck in a hard drive. The third heat was the best mile of the race. In another whipping finish Thomas Earl nosed out Colleen for the decision.

The 2:14 trot went to Azora Ax-worthy which won the first two heats. Miss Denomore a strong contender in the first two won the third by coming up from behind at the stretch and finishing a neck ahead of Azora Axworthy.

BRIGADIER GEN. DODD RETIRES
AFTER LONG MILITARY CAREER

Saw Forty Years in U. S. Army—Won Commendation for Gallantry in Spanish War—Cavalry Commander in Mexican Punitive Expedition.

Washington, D. C., July 26.—The official life of a gallant old warrior expired today, when, by reason of the fact that this is the sixty-fourth anniversary of his birth, Brigadier General George A. Dodd, the commander of the cavalry brigade of the punitive expedition into Mexico last spring was retired from active service. In the ordinary routine of military affairs Gen. Dodd would have been retired with a rank of colonel a few weeks ago, by order of the President, the higher rank of brigadier general was conferred upon him in recognition of his distinguished services in Mexico, particularly his cavalry dash at Guerrero last March, when he went into successful action against a superior force of bandits after a ride of 17 miles in 17 hours.

In the forty years of his service in the regulars, "Dare-Devil" Dodd, as he is familiarly known, has seen as much hard fighting as any officer of the service. He is a native of Pennsylvania and was appointed to the Military Academy from that State. Immediately after his graduation in 1876 he was assigned as a second lieutenant to the famous Third Cavalry, the command that has seen more hard service on the border in the past four years than any regiment in the army.

At West Point his classmates included Hugh L. Scott, now a major general and chief of the General Staff; Brig. Gen. Ernest A. Garlington, the Inspector-General of the army, and Herbert W. Slocum, now commanding the Twelfth Cavalry, the attack upon which at Columbus, N. M., was the immediate cause of the expedition being sent into Mexico last spring.

The first ten years of Gen. Dodd's service were ten years of never-ceasing activity for the most part in actions against the hostile Indians of the Far West. He served thru the Powder River expedition of 1877, helped to keep the Indians of the Red Cloud Agency quiet in 1878, won the commendation of his superiors for gallant service in the Ute expedition of 1879, was in command of a famous company of scouts in the Arizona outbreaks of 1883, and helped suppress Indian disturbances in what is now the State of Oklahoma in November, 1893.

Gen. Dodd was a captain in the Fourth Cavalry in the Spanish war. He was in the battle of San Juan and participated in the siege and operations against Santiago. He was commended for gallantry in the face of the enemy in the Santiago campaign. When he returned to the United States in the latter part of 1898 he was sent to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., for a tour of duty, which lasted but a few weeks, when he was ordered to the Philippines, where he participated in the expedition sent into northern Luzon under Maj. Gen. Young. In this expedition he took part in twelve battles, and again won the commendation of his superiors for gallant and meritorious work. He was recommended by Gen. Young for brevet major for gallant conduct in action at San Nicholas, P. I., and subsequently by Gen. Wheaton for conspicuous gallantry in action at Aliaganan, P. I.

Gen. Dodd returned to the United States from the Philippines in 1901 and again was sent for a tour of duty at Fort Ethan Allen. He was ordered West, in 1903, to command Fort Assinibine, Mont. On July 28, 1903, he was made a lieutenant colonel and assigned as second in command of the Tenth Cavalry, one of the two famous negro mounted commands of the regular army. He was made a colonel in April, 1908, and put in command of the Twelfth Cavalry.

He was commanding the Second Cavalry Brigade on the border at the time of the Columbus raid. When President Wilson ordered Gen. Funston to send a punitive expedition into Mexico he promptly gave the command of the forces to Dodd, for he knew, as his brother officers expressed it at the time, "that old Dodd was the one who could successfully cope with the Mexican bandits if anybody could."

IMPORTS FROM ALASKA IN FISCAL YEAR 1916

Alaska's sales to the United States in the fiscal year 1916 aggregated nearly $50,000,000, a sum double the annual average since 1912 and only exceeded by those of ten countries when measured by their sales to us in the last year prior to the great war. In addition to this Alaska shipped to us in 1915-16 gold valued at $16,000,000 and silver to the value of $760,000, both from its own mines.

The predominant feature of the year's trade, according to an analysis made by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic commerce, Department of Commerce, was the rise of copper to first place among Alaska's export staples, thereby supplanting salmon and gold as the leading items. Receipts of copper in ore, matte, and regulus from Alaska aggregated 117 million pounds valued at 26 1-2 million dollars. This is four times the average for the preceding three years and exceeds the combined imports of that class from Chile, Cuba, Canada and Mexico, the leading foreign sources of this form of copper.

Canned salmon shipped to the United States in the last fiscal year amounted to 216 million pounds valued at 18 1-3 million dollars, an increase of 24 million pounds over 1915 and of 40 million over 1914.

The shipment of $16,200,000 worth of Alaskan gold to domestic ports was larger by $1,000,000 than the total for 1915 and by $4,000,000 than that for 1914. Silver shipments, valued at $760,000 in 1916, were $500,000 more than in 1915 and $600,000 more than in 1914.

The following table summarizes by leading articles the shipments of Alaskan produce into the United States during the last three fiscal years:

Total domestic merchandise, 1916 $48,966,000; 1915, $27,039,000; 1914, $21,486,000.

Copper in ore, matte, and regulus, 1916, $26,488,000; 1915, $5,182,000; 1914, $3,876,000.

Canned salmon, 1916, $18,307,000; 1915, $17,590,000, 1914, $12,264,000.

Other salmon, 1916, $550,000; 1915, $785,000; 1914, $955,000.

Other fish and fish products, 1916 $773,000; 1915, $850,000; 1914, $982,000.

Furs and skins, except seal, 1916, $468,000; 1915, $64,000; 1914, $10,000.

Seal skins, 1916, $105,000; 1915, $115,000; 1914, $92,000.

Animal oils, 1916, $271,000; 1915, $298,000; 1914, $211,000.

Antimony, 1916, $198,000; 1915, no data; 1914, no data.

Tin ore and concentrates, 1916, $79,000; 1915, $71,000; 1914, $73,000.

Lead in ore, etc., 1916, $72,000; no data.

Marble and stone, 1916, $59,000; 1915, $117,000; 1914, $127,000.

Gypsum, 1916, $51,000; 1915, $10,000; 1914, $101,000.

COVENTION OF MOTORCYCLISTS.

Providence, R. I., July 26.—Avery train and boat arriving in Providence today brought its quota of delegates and visitors to the annual national convention and assembly of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, which is to hold forth here during the remainder of this week.

The attendance and enthusiasm recall to the old-timers the days when the national meets of the League of American Wheelmen were among the largest yearly gatherings held in this country.

Members of the reception committee today met each train and boat and gave all possible information to the visitors. Hundreds of the arrivals brought their motorcycles along, and the baggage rooms of railroad stations and hotels looked like some mammoth cycle clearing house.

The election of officers, the selection of the next meeting place, and the consideration of a number of changes proposed by the by-laws of the federation will occupy the attention of the delegates at their business sessions. Between sessions there will be numerous features of entertainment provided for the visitors. Of most interest, however, will be the racing program that will be carried out in conjunction with the meeting. The races will take place at the Narragansett Park Speedway, commencing Thursday and continuing over Friday and Saturday.

Practically all of the oats in this neighborhood will be threshed by the end of this week, and most of the hay will be baled and stacked by then.

This neighborhood was fortunate in having a fine rain Wednesday afternoon, the first in four weeks.

Over 60 years ago he was united in marriage to Leonora Vieira who also came to this country with the original exiles. She preceded him in death about a year ago. There survive three children, Mary, Robert and Abel, all residents of this city.

During the administration of the late Dr. Andrew McFarland at Jacksonville State hospital he learned the painters trade at the institution and followed it for many years. About twenty years ago Mr. Correa met with an accident in the Wabash wards which resulted in the loss of both feet. Since that time he has been unable to work much at his trade.

Decceased was for many years a member of Northminster Presbyterian church and always attended services when possible. The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gillham and prepared for burial. The time of the funeral has not been set.

WAR ON IMMATURE VEAL SALES

In Chicago the health department has begun a crusade against the sale of impure veal. Investigation has shown that a great number of calves less than four weeks old have been shipped into Chicago for use as meat. This is contrary to law and city inspectors and state authorities have decided on a campaign to put an end to the practice. Strict watch will be kept at all the packing houses and at railway stations. Evidence obtained by the city inspectors will be turned over to the state and prosecutions will be made. The order takes effect August 1, and the notices are being sent out at this time particularly for the benefit of farmers who have been making shipments which now come under the ban.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Picnic Enjoyed Near Chapin

A jolly group of young people enjoyed a picnic Wednesday evening at the Peribix grove near Chapin. Several Jacksonville people were present, going to Chapin in cars and on the 5:15 Wabash. The evening was spent at the grove and at the delightful home of Miss Josephine Taylor of Chapin. Those present were, Misses Grace Van Houten, Aileen Fitch, Edith Rodgers, Frances Leek, and Fred Leach, Reon Marshall, and Frank Markillie of Jacksonville, and Misses Hazel Antrobus, Josephine Taylor, and Dean Antrobus, Werner Onken and Alden Allen.

Birthday Surprise for Paul Megginson at Woodson

Paul Megginson of Woodson was most agreeably surprised recently by a group of about forty-five friends, the occasion being his twentieth birthday. The guests came in the evening and played croquet on the beautiful lawn of the Megginson home. During the evening Mr. Megginson was presented with a handsome gold watch fob as a token of esteem. At late hour the guests departed wishing him many happy returns of the day.

Sinclair Country Club

in Profitable Meeting

Mrs. N. T. Fox was hostess Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Sinclair Country Club. Attendance was good and after the program there prevailed a pleasant social hour. "The Story of the Flag" was presented in an interesting manner by Mrs. William Richardson and Miss Rowena Sinclair gave an excellent book review. Music was furnished by Miss Sinclair and Mrs. Lester Hart. Mrs. Callie Hart of Jacksonville was among the guests.

Mrs. Frank Hunter will entertain the club at the next regular meeting two weeks hence.

Club Gives Farewell
for Mrs. James Kennedy

Mrs. James Kennedy of West North street was tendered a farewell party Wednesday afternoon at the Colonial Inn, in anticipation of her departure next week for Indianapolis to make her home. The party was given by members of her bridge club, with Mrs. Leo S. Johnson, Mrs. E. A. Lushbaugh and Mrs. S. E. Bergsneider as hostesses. Covers were laid for twelve. The afternoon was a very pleasant one and many regrets were expressed at Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's expected departure.

MORTUARY

CORREA.

Emmanuel Correa, for many years a resident of Jacksonville died at a local hospital Wednesday evening at 9:40 o'clock aged 89 years. His last illness had extended over a period of two years.

Mr. Correa was one of the first of two hundred and fifteen exiles who came to this country in 1849, coming directly to Jacksonville. He first resided at the corner of East College and South Clay avenue. About 40 years ago he removed to 335 East College street which was his home at the time of death.

Over 60 years ago he was united in marriage to Leonora Vieira who also came to this country with the original exiles. She preceded him in death about a year ago. There survive three children, Mary, Robert and Abel, all residents of this city.

During the administration of the late Dr. Andrew McFarland at Jacksonville State hospital he learned the painters trade at the institution and followed it for many years. About twenty years ago Mr. Correa met with an accident in the Wabash wards which resulted in the loss of both feet. Since that time he has been unable to work much at his trade.

The fishermen from their accounts verified by a few witnesses, have set a record for this community,—record not of the number or size of fish caught—but a record for time spent in trying and trying hard. The fish brought back are positive evidence that the trip was made and the Park Hotel signified his willingness to make affidavit that the men started on the trip at 1:30 a. m.

Anxious to have an indelible record of the Fish Lake trip, the fishermen brought to the Star office this morning, several black bass as proof of their having been at the lake, and then called in the hotel clerk to prove the hour of departure. There seems to be no question that the men rightfully claim a record for endurance and the Illinoian Star has so recorded the fact in the book of fishing statistics.

JUDGE BURTON GIVES DECISION IN BARBER LAND CASE

Finds for Plaintiff in Fox Suit—Circuit Court Has Adjudged for Term.

After rendering decisions in the cases of H. J. Rodgers vs Earl Fox, and the Ayers National bank vs William Barber, et al, Judge Burton adjourned the May term of the circuit court Wednesday. The finding in the Rodgers-Fox case was in favor of the plaintiff, the court holding that Daniel Gorham, against whom judgment had been rendered with E. E. Fox should be held for the indebtedness.

In the Barber land case the court's opinion was that the transfer of 40 acres of land from William Barber to Margaret Barber was regular.

With reference to transfer of 5 acres within the city of Jacksonville, the court's opinion was that as between Margaret Barber and James Barber the transaction was regular, but that there was no evidence that any money passed between William and James Barber.

On this line of reasoning the court ordered that the 5 acres of land could be seized to discharge the obligations of the complainants. There is a mortgage of $1,000 on this land which is between Caldwell street and Sandusky, and this must be satisfied before funds are available for the complainants in the case. The claim of the Ayers National bank with interest totals about $1,950 and that of Elmer Henderson with interest totals about $1,050. The property which is on Caldwell street includes a seven room house, and is considered worth $4,000. The complainants in the case were represented by Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarity and the defendants by J. O. Priest.

SHARP CONTEST FOR ATTORNEY IN SANGAMON
A recent issue of the Springfield Register carries the announcement that W. Edgar Sampson, a prominent attorney of that city, an Illinois college graduate, will be a candidate for Republican nomination for state's attorney, opposing Fred Mortimer. Mr. Sampson, who has served as probate judge and during the administration of W. H. Stead was connected with the attorney general's office, states that he is for "efficiency, economy and law enforcement."

Mr. Sampson is backed by the anti-Sullivan organization in Sangamon county and vigorous efforts will be made to nominate an entirely anti-Sullivan county ticket. Mr. Sampson was the Republican nominee four years ago for State's attorney and was defeated by Edmund Burke, the latter being elected by a large majority. Mr. Mortimer has been conducting an active campaign for several weeks and will have the support of the Sullivan forces. The contest promises to be an extremely strong one.

FLOYD COLVIN INJURED AT NEW BERLIN

Train Struck and Killed Team He Was Driving—Young Man's Injuries Serious.

New Berlin, July 26—Floyd Colvin, in the employ of C. B. Wilcox, was seriously injured when the team he was driving instantly killed when they were struck by an east bound freight train about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The accident occurred a short distance west of Island Grove switch. Colvin had been assisting a neighbor in threshing and was returning home when struck by the train. The wagon was considerably damaged and the driver was thrown to one side of the track. The train came to the assistance of the injured man and he was removed to his home, which was not far from the scene of the accident.

This is one of a number of similar accidents which have occurred in this vicinity in recent years.

BOOSTER CLUB WILL WORK FOR OILED ROADWAY

Plan to Lay Dust in Preparation for Chautauqua Week

To the Young Men's Booster club has been delegated the task of raising funds for the oiling of the roadway from the end of the South East street pavement to Nichols park. It is proposed to have this work done before the chautauqua commences, and it is really essential not only from the standpoint of patrons of the chautauqua, but also on account of the people resident along the route. The road is now exceedingly dusty and it is almost certain that at this season of the year that there will not be rains frequent enough to keep it in passable condition.

It is proposed to oil the road 24 feet wide from the end of South East street pavement east on Michigan avenue to Hardin; then south on Hardin to the Vandala road and thence east to the entrance of the park. The authorities of South Jacksonville have agreed to do the necessary grading work and all that the Booster club is now attempting to do is to raise the necessary funds for the application of the oil. This will require $375 and subscription lists are already in circulation.

It would be of considerable advantage to the public to have Hardin avenue oiled from Michigan avenue to Morton and so provide two oiled ways from the park, but if this is done it will be as a proposition separate from the other oiling work.

START ON AUTO TRIP TO MICHIGAN

Farrell and Strawn Families Will Start on Journey North This Morning.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Felix E. Farrell, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Julius G. Strawn, son and daughter, will leave for a three weeks' trip to Michigan. Aurelius Vosseller will accompany the Farrell family and will leave the party at Douglas, Mich., where his uncle, Dr. Augustus Balliett and family, are spending the summer. Mr. Farrell has planned the itinerary and the tourists will leave Jacksonville this morning at about 5 o'clock and travel to Indianapolis. Thence they will go to South Bend and on to Benton Harbor, where two or three days will be spent with friends. Stops will be made at several other resorts before reaching Traverse City, and the itinerary will take them on to Omena, where the Farrell family will spend ten days with Mrs. E. E. Crabtree.

Mr. Strawn and family will spend three or four weeks at various Michigan resorts, and the Farrell family will probably return to Jacksonville by August 15.

STOCK ALONG ROADS

A well known Jacksonville motorist made complaint yesterday that too many farmers allowed their stock to run loose in the road. He reported on one trip north of the city he narrowly missed running over a large steer which was lying directly in the middle of the highway just as he rounded the curve. A driver who did not have his car under perfect control would have been almost certain to have hit the animal. On the same trip he had a difficult time getting past two calves which were in the road at a very narrow point, as the animals persisted in staying in front of the light. This is a matter which should be attended to by all farmers, as the penalty rests with them if the car is damaged in any way, and besides they have the loss of their stock.

RETURN FROM MACOUPIN MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING

Dr. D. W. Reid and Dr. G. R. Bradley were among Jacksonville physicians who attended the meeting of the Macoupin County Medical Society Tuesday at Scottville. Dr. Stacy presented an abstract on the present knowledge of polio-myelitis. The discussion developed reports of a few cases of the disease in Macoupin county.

Several horses were bought for experimental purposes and fed with mouldy silage. Four days after feeding, symptoms of poisoning showed themselves. On the 5th day, one horse died and within a period of three weeks three more horses died. The remaining horse will undoubtedly die too.

It is apparent from these experiments that farmers are not justified in trying to economize by feeding horses and cattle silage that has become spoiled.

COL. LOWDEN COMES OUT SQUARELY ON ISSUES

Candidate For Governor Declares Himself on Various Important Questions—Would Sign County Option Bill.

In a recent statement Col. Frank Lowden, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination made the following declarations:

If nominated and elected governor, I will give my entire time and whatever ability I possess unreservedly to the state.

I will endeavor to eliminate waste, inefficiency and extravagance—grave dangers that menace the state thru loose and irresponsible methods of administration.

I favor a constitutional convention that government may be simplified and known errors in legislation corrected.

I believe a finance department should be created and that the more than 100 commissions and boards should be consolidated into 10 principal departments.

I favor a budget system of appropriations instead of the present careless way of spending the state's money.

I favor the pending constitutional amendment providing for classifying and uniformly taxing personal property.

I am for the election of fewer public officers—the short ballot—and fewer elections.

I stand for home rule for cities, especially Chicago, in things essentially local. The present public utility law appears satisfactory to the people down-state.

I believe in the adequate protection of industrial workers.

I think persons absent from home on election day should be given an opportunity to vote if a law can be enacted that will prevent fraudulent voting.

I believe more attention should be paid to the conservation of the state's resources, agriculture and good roads. The country should be developed.

I favor a strong civil service law that will promote the highest efficiency among the state's employees.

I shall sign a county option bill if passed by the general assembly and will make no attempt to influence its members in its favor or against it.

I believe, if women are permitted to vote for president of the United States, they should be given the right to vote for candidates for all minor offices.

I shall endeavor to reduce the expenses of the state, promote efficiency in all branches of government and give the people a progressive, business-like administration.

MOULDY SILAGE IS FOUND TO POISON STOCK

The University is Making Tests in Endeavor to Find the Cause

The feeding of mouldy silage to horses and cattle has caused a great number of deaths in Illinois within the last few months. This has led Professors H. P. Rusk and H. S. Grindley of the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station to initiate a series of experiments with a view of determining, if possible, what moulds or bacteria are causing the trouble.

That the task undertaken is not an easy one is readily understood when one reflects that men of ability have worked on the problem since 1845 without arriving at a solution.

Whenever an outbreak of forage poisoning has been reported to Professors Rusk and Grindley, they have usually visited the farm where the outbreak has occurred, and have examined especially the feeds in an attempt to determine to what the trouble has been due. Furthermore they have conducted experiments on mice, pigs, rabbits and chickens by feeding forage. Thus far these animals have not given a positive test.

Several horses were bought for experimental purposes and fed with mouldy silage. Four days after feeding, symptoms of poisoning showed themselves. On the 5th day, one horse died and within a period of three weeks three more horses died.

The remaining horse will undoubtedly die too.

It is apparent from these experiments that farmers are not justified in trying to economize by feeding horses and cattle silage that has become spoiled.
